DAVID FURNES

www.dfurnes.com
david@dfurnes.com

OBJECTIVE

Seeking an engineering or product design internship in the technology industry, using skills in coding, design, and usability.

EDUCATION

University of Connecticut, Storrs, CT
Bachelors of Science, Computer Science. May 2013.
Bachelors of Science, Psychology. May 2013.

NOTABLE SKILLS

Coding:	Web:	Design:
Objective-C, C++, Java, JavaScript, Node.js, PHP	HTML5, CSS, JQuery, Apache, MySQL	Photoshop, Illustrator, After Effects, typography, color theory

INTERESTS/ SIDE PROJECTS

- Self-taught Objective-C and Foundation/UIKit for iOS programming, and currently in the process of creating an iPhone app for sale on the App Store.
- Won a $12,000 college scholarship, in which I completed a five-month individual study research project (in competition with 5 other finalists).
- Fan of tech blogs & podcasts, biking & hiking, and League of Legends.

WORK EXPERIENCE

One Planet Education Network, Scituate, MA
Design Intern   June 2011 – August 2011
- Created landing page for upcoming educational game.
- Provided feedback after playtesting early versions of games.

Engineering Student Leadership Council, Storrs, CT
Designer   April 2011 – Present
- Responsible for marketing for the group and its events, including branding, web design, posters, and social media.

University of Connecticut Student Television, Storrs, CT
Web Developer   October 2009 – Present
- Implemented a complete redesign of the station's website, focusing on usability and the new-user experience.
- Integrated sections of the website with University of Connecticut's single sign-on system to let students quickly log in.